

Biography

Sarayut Thummachot The National Archives of Thailand

Sarayut Thummachot is an archivist in Records Management Section at the National Archives of Thailand. He is responsible for collecting historical public records from government agencies and personal records according to National Archives Act B.E. 2556 (2013) including laws and regulations related to archival work. He is responsible about manage records at the records center for long-term preservation and appraisal of historical records to archive. He also advises about managing public records for government agencies. Including responsibility for developing a records management system. He graduated Bachelor's Degree BA (History) with second class honour from Kasetsart University and Master's Degree MSc (Environmental Science) from Kasetsart University.