

Biography

Pawida Somwong

Pawida Somwong is an archivist at the Preservation and Conservation Section of the National Archives of Thailand. Holding a Master's degree in Arts in Archives and Cultural Heritage Information Management from Silpakorn University. Pawida Somwong has been responsible for maintaining audio-visual archives from 2013 to the present. She has researched the guidelines for glass film conservation from Thai and international experts to apply to the management of glass plates negatives which stored in the National Archives of Thailand.